JAAS Vol. XI, No. 1...

In the last issue, we failed to note that the article “Nestorianism in Central Asia during the first Millenium,” by Professor Lala Comneno originally appeared in Italian in Orientalia Christiana Periodica, Vol. 61, II (1995) pp.495-535. Belatedly, we wish to thank this periodical as well as P. Poggi, its director, for authorizing its reprint in English. Translation of the article from Italian to English was performed principally by the author.

JAAS Vol. XI, No. 2...

In this issue, Richard N. Frye’s “Assyria and Syria: Synonyms” first appeared in the Journal of Near Eastern Studies, Vol. 51, no.4 (1992). We are grateful to the University of Chicago for providing its permission to reprint the article in JAAS. The present article has been very slightly modified by the author.

Also, William F. Macomber’s “A History of the Chaldean Mass” first appeared in Worship, Vol. 57, no.2 (March 1977). We are grateful to that publication and to St. John’s Abbey (Collegeville, MN) for extending us permission to reprint the article.

JAAS Vol. XII, No. 1...

The next issue promises to be exciting. Essays in development or now finalized will discuss Missionaries in Urmia; the Sarda:rid dialect; Nineveh after the fall; More on the Chaldean Mass; a Critique on Weltecke’s Michael the Syrian; Assyrians in Turkey: Trials and Tribulations; Adoptions in Ancient Assyria; and Dr. Perley Revisited. Whether it is the next issue or those to follow, we are always pleased to feature wide-ranging studies by our contributors, such as Dr. Michael Abdalla (Assyrian folkways), Dr. Zomaya Solomon (the modern Assyrian language), and (soon to be Dr.) Abdul Massih Saadi (religious history).

We continue to welcome comments and suggestions from our readers. Correspondence in English should be sent to JAAS, P.O. Box 5715, Santa Barbara, CA 93150-5715. Correspondence in Assyrian should be sent to JAAS, P.O. Box 4102, Des Plaines, IL 60016-4102.
